AN IMPORTANT ORDER

Interstate Commerce Commission Invokes Aid of Federal Court to Enforce Process.

WILMINGTON FREIGHT RATES.

Termination of the Litigation Brought by the Tariff Association of This City is Sought--Motion by Complainant and Order by Judge Purnell.

As foreshadowed in the special telegram to the STAR from Raleigh Friday night, Col. Harry Skinner, United States District Attorney, arrived in the city yesterday and filed in the United States Court here a bill in equity to enforce the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the suit of the Wilmington Tariff Association against the Cincinnati, Portsmouth & Virginia Railroad Company et al., it having been decided at that time that there was unjust discrimination in freight rates from the West to Wilmington in favor of Norfolk and other Virginia points, which are competitors with Wilmington for the wholesale trade in the Carolinas.

It will be remembered that the Interstate Commerce Commission had a sitting in Wilmington three years ago to hear the case brought against the defendant railroads by the Wilmington Tariff Association and later made a ruling in favor of Wilmington. However the commission has, as in many other cases, found itself powerless to enforce their order and they now invoke the power of the Federal Court.

District Attorney Skinner is acting in the matter in conjunction with Mr. L. A. Shoolar, general counsel for the Interstate Commission.

The complaint in the suit now brought by the Commission to enforce its order, is a voluminous document of about 100 printed pages and after enumerating the numerous railways and declaring them subject to the provisions of the act establishing the Commission and entitled "An act to regulate commerce," recites the hearing in Wilmington, April 20th and 21st, 1899, and in Washington, D. C., May 22-25, and its decision in favor of the Wilmington Association on December 17th, 1902. It is stated that May 7th, 1902, the Commission formulated an order in conformity to its conclusions in the case and served the same upon the railroads; that the railroads have wholly disregarded and set at naught the order and have wilfully and knowingly violated and disobeyed the same, and still do neglect and refuse to comply with the order or any part thereof.

The Commission upon these allegations asks that a subpœna issue to show cause why the order has been disregarded as stated. (2) That an order be granted directing the method of service of notice of the pendency of the proceeding. (3) That such order may be passed pending the cause as will secure a speedy hearing and determination of the matters. (4) That such order may be passed pending the cause as may be necessary for the prosecution of all such inquiries as may be necessary to enable the court to form a just judgment in the matters and things stated and charged in the complaint. (5). That upon final hearing a decree may be entered granting to complainant a writ of injunction or other proper process, mandatory or otherwise, to restrain the defendants from further continuing in their disregard of the order of the Commission. (6.) That a decree may be entered requiring the defendants to pay such sum of money not exceeding $500 for every day after a day to be named in such decree that they shall fail to obey said process. (7.) That the defendants be required to pay cost and reasonable counsel fees in this litigation and (8) for such other relief as the court may deem meet and proper.

A motion of complainant granted by the court in the case is as follows: "And now comes the Interstate Commerce Commission, complainant in the above entitled cause, by Harry Skinner, Esq., United States District Attorney, for the Eastern District of North Carolina, and moves and respectfully prays the court for an order as to the manner of service of the bill of complaint in said cause and as to the manner of service of this motion and of the order thereon and that the court require the defendants above named to file their answers to said bill of complaint on or before a day certain to be fixed by the court, and also to appear before the court here at such time as may be fixed by the court, then and there to show cause why such other preliminary orders as to the court may seem meet shall not be entered to speed the cause to a final hearing, as provided for in the 16th section of the act to regulate commerce. HARRY SKINNER,
United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of North Carolina.

The order of the court on complainant's motion is as follows:

And now, upon the filing of the bill of complaint and accompanying motion herein, it is hereby ordered that the Secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission be, and he is hereby authorized to make service of said bill of complaint and accompanying motion and of this order, by registering and depositing in the mails of the United States true copies thereof, duly authenticated under the seal of the said Interstate Commerce Commission, correctly addressed to the president or one of the vice presidents or the secretary of each of the defendants above named.

It is also hereby ordered that the said defendants file their answers to said bill of complaint on or before the 29th day of September, 1902, and also appear before the court on the 6th day of October, 1902, and show cause why such other and further preliminary orders as to the court may seem meet should not be entered in this cause to speed the same to final hearing. Done this 16th of August, 1902.
THOS. R. PURNELL,
United States Judge.

The suit promises to be an interesting one as prescribing the exact powers of the Commission and will likely be taken to the highest tribunal in the land before its final termination. Eminent counsel appear on both sides and it is virtually a battle royal between the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States and the leading railway systems of the South and West. The roads against whom the bill is brought are as follows:

The Cincinnati, Portsmouth & Virginia R. R. Co.; The Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Rwy. Co.; The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, The Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville Railway Co.; The Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis Consolidated Rwy. Co., and Geo. T. Jarvis, receiver thereof, and the Southern Railway as successor of the same; the Southern Rwy. Co.; The Georgia Rwy. Co.; The N. C. & St. Louis Rwy. Co., The Western and Atlantic R. R. Co., The C. & O. Railway; The N. & W. Railway; The C. F. & Y. V. R. R. Co.; the receiver and successors of said railway; The Seaboard and Roanoke; The Raleigh and Gaston; The Raleigh and Augusta Air Line; The C. C. R. R. Co.; The G. Co.; The Petersburg Railroad Co.; The Wilmington & Weldon R. R. Co.; The Manchester & Augusta R. R. Co.; The W. C. & A. Railroad Co.; comprising the Atlantic Coast Line System and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company as successor in operation thereof; and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co.

Congressional Delegates Will Move Upon Fayetteville This Week.

Forty-two of the fifty-nine regular delegates appointed to represent New Hanover county in the Congressional convention to be held at Fayetteville next Wednesday have definitely decided to go, and there are others who have not been called on who will also attend. Of the alternates, a sufficient number will go to give this county her full representation on the floor of the convention.

The delegates from New Hanover are to a man earnest and enthusiastic supporters of Hon. John D. Bellamy and their influence will be felt both in and out of the convention.

The advance guard will leave by the A. & Y. at 9:10 to-morrow morning. Others will go via the W. C. & A. at 3:45 in the afternoon and by the W. & W. at 7 P. M. But the majority will take the A. & Y. train Tuesday morning, when an extra coach will be necessary for their accommodation. The Brunswick delegates will also take that train and a number from Bladen will be picked up at Parkersburg and other points.

The New Hanover delegation will be the largest that has ever attended a Congressional convention from this county and its personnel will be equal to that of any delegation ever appointed in the State.

IMPROVEMENT ON WATER STREET.

D. L. Gore Company Will Build Large Warehouse Opposite Its Store.

A permit was granted yesterday by the city authorities to the D. L. Gore Company for the building of a two-story wooden structure, on the north side of Water street, opposite the company's present stores. The building will front 66 feet on Water street and extend back to the river 140 feet. It will be veneered with a wall one brick thick from the street to the wharf and in front of the building. It will be covered with tin from the brick veneering to the river, and the end fronting the river is also to be covered or roofed with tin.

The building will be used by the D. L. Gore Company as a warehouse for the storage of general merchandise, and will be one of the most commodious and eligibly located warehouses in the city.

The extensive coal yards of J. A. Springer & Co., which now occupy the site, will be removed to the new location on the old North State Improvement wharves, just north of the foot of Chesnut street. The new wharf for the Messrs. Springer & Co. is now about complete, and the work of removing and rebuilding will be commenced very soon.

WAS IT MURDER?

Negro Shot at Dance Hall Thursday Night Died Yesterday Afternoon.

JURY OF INQUEST TO-DAY.

Full Investigation of His Alleged Accidental Shooting Will Be Held by Dr. Bell This Morning--Parties Concerned Well Connected.

Was the shooting of Arthur Swinson by Walter McKoy, at Twelfth and Dawson streets Thursday night, accidental, or was the bullet, which caused his death yesterday at the Hospital, intended to accomplish the purpose it did?

That is the question which a coroner's jury will decide this morning after hearing all the evidence upon the subject.

Readers of these columns will recall that Friday's issue of the STAR contained brief particulars of the shooting of a young negro, Swinson, and a statement by Dr. Thos. R. Mask at the time that the wound would likely prove not serious. After Swinson's wounds were dressed at the office of Dr. Mask, soon after the shooting, the injured man was sent to the hospital where he lingered until his death came at 12:45 P. M. yesterday. Drs. F. H. Russell and Pride J. Thomas performed an operation upon the negro Friday night and it was found that the bullet, instead of going round as Dr. Mask had supposed from a hasty examination of the wound, had penetrated the abdominal cavity and perforated the intestines in eleven places. Although the bullet was extracted, it was seen that Swinson's death was inevitable.

Upon being notified of the death yesterday, Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, went at once to the hospital and after viewing the remains and hearing the circumstances of the shooting, decided to hold an inquest. The body was, however, turned over to the family of the deceased for burial.

A Jury of inquest will assemble this morning at 10 o'clock at the office of Dr. Bell and determine whether the shooting was with malice or whether it was accidental as given out by several witnesses when it was thought that only a flesh wound had been inflicted. The jury will be summoned by Dr. Bell this morning.

It is learned that five or six witnesses will testify that Swinson and his slayer were at a dance hall in the vicinity named on Thursday night and that the dead man was talking to several women on the outside circle of the dancing that was going on at a dance hall. McKoy walked over to them and demanded a cigarette stump Swinson was smoking. The latter declined to hand over the "coffin tack" and McKoy, whether jokingly or not witnesses differ in opinion, produced a 32 pistol from his pocket and pointing it to the floor, made another demand for the cigarette stump. Witnesses say he then acted as if he was going to fire the pistol at the floor, but in some way the weapon was raised and the ball took effect in Swinson's lower left abdomen. McKoy hastened with the wounded man to Dr. Mask's office and assisted in making up a purse for the treatment of the man. Police Sergeant C. S. Burnett went at once to investigate the shooting and in the office of Dr. Mask he is said to have been told by Swinson himself that the shooting was an accident. However, upon the appearance of the officer, McKoy skipped out and has not been heard of since. Police Capt. Williams, Sergeant Burnett and Officer ReVeille made a diligent search for the negro on the same night, but without avail.

The fact that the negro disappeared after the shooting is regarded as strong evidence that it was not accidental. McKoy is the son of Ellis McKoy, a well behaved negro, who once worked about the First Baptist church.

Meeting of Old Acquaintances.

A lively fisticuff occurred about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon on Second near Market street. A young man named McEntee, who formerly lived here, and Mr. D. D. Cameron, who clerks for Sanders at the "Unlucky Corner," were the participants. Young McEntee had been drinking and accosted Mr. Cameron, who at first did not recognize him. This seemed to enrage Mr. McEntee, who assaulted his former acquaintance in a violent manner. Constable Sheehan saw the disturbance, ran to the corner and placed them both under arrest. Mr. Cameron was recognized for his appearance at 12 o'clock Monday and the aggressor was sent to jail, but later gave bond. Mr. Cameron is at a loss to know why the young man assaulted him.

Orphan Children Returned Home.

The fifty odd children of the Odd Fellows' Home at Goldsboro who have been on their annual week's vacation to Wilmington, Wrightsville and Southport, returned yesterday morning on the 9:10 A. M. Coast Line train going North. A large number of friends gathered at the station and bade them good-bye with assurance of a hearty welcome next season. The children and Supt. Brinson and family were exceedingly profuse in their praise of the hospitable manner in which they were entertained this year and all say they will anticipate the coming again with great pleasure.

ROBBED TROUSER POCKETS OF $130 IN GREENBACK.

Burglars Visited Home of Mr. Furney J. Gooding, North Fourth Street, Early Yesterday Morning.

Burglars visited the residence of Mr. Furney J. Gooding, No. 511 North Fourth street, before day yesterday morning and stole from Mr. Gooding's trousers in a room where he slept a roll of bills which amounted to about $130. The trousers were found yesterday morning in Mr. H. C. Twining's yard, next door, after the pockets had been rifled. A diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Gooding and a watch were on a chair in the same room, but were undisturbed. The burglary occurred before a very heavy rain storm which came on about 3:45 A. M., as the trousers were wet when found in the adjoining yard next morning.

The robbery was from a front room on the second floor of the residence and Capt. Robert Green, who is working on the case, thinks that entrance was effected by climbing upon the roof of the front porch, thence through an open window to the room in which Mr. Gooding was sleeping.

Mrs. Harvey Twining, who lives next door, saw two men about the premises during the night as she was up with a sick child, but their actions were not suspicious and she therefore gave no alarm. There is no further clue to the identity of the thieves.

PLEA FOR STREET REPAIRS.

Citizen of Wilmington Advances Logical Argument Why Something Should Be Done at Once.

The STAR was last night handed the following communication from a citizen, which appears to be timely:

To the Editor of the Star:

Born and bred in Wilmington, I take pride in her past history and interest in her present welfare, and have derived much pleasure from her steady growth during the last few years.

There is one matter the spirit of progress seems to pass over almost entirely. That is permanent street improvement. Streets are paved or macadamized with material that elsewhere affords a lasting thoroughfare. Ours do not; they go to pieces for lack of a few systematic repairs. Recently many stretches of limestone macadam have been put down and have proved excellent for a time. A while since a resolution was offered the city government recommending the immediate repair of certain streets. The limestone had undergone two years' wear and tear. Probably the forwarders of this resolution saw the real trouble. It seems to elude the officials.

Let us disregard the removal of paper and the prevention of reckless garbage dumping anywhere careless servants see fit and turn to the construction and repair as carried on. The limestone is laid and soon hardens, giving a perfect road for about six months. Then a dry spell comes and the fine upper dust blows away, leaving bare the rough under layers. This for want of sprinkling. In Winter mud-holes are allowed to eat through the road bed where one load of stone would easily stop an incipient puddle. The blue limestone on Market street is slowly going to ruin for want of a top covering to preserve it. At the lower end of the block between Ninth and Tenth, shoals of sand left by the sewerage people help to eat away the top dressing and leave bare the coarse bed. On the north side of the block, between Fourth and Fifth, there is demand for immediate repair in the shape of a covering for a large rock as a foundation for the roadway. The adage that a stitch in time saves nine may be quite threadbare, but it is nevertheless true, and however much it has been used, is in better repair than the streets.

And so it goes. The powers that were and the powers that be trust to the grace of God for preservation from the mud holes in Winter and washouts in Summer. Such trust in the Supreme Being is, no doubt, admirable, but reasonable economy and a modicum of public pride would achieve much more when it comes to good streets. JUNIUS.

MOORE'S CREEK BATTLEFIELD.

Monumental Association Met Thursday on the Grounds—Officers Chosen.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

POINT CASWELL, N. C., Aug. 15.—The annual meeting of the Moore's Creek Monumental Association was held at the pavilion on the grounds on Thursday, 14th. There was a very full attendance of the members. One very important resolution passed was to make each Congressman in the State a vice president. This will add greatly to the Association and lend aid to our representative in Congress with the bill for the appropriation that he now has before Congress.

A committee of five consisting of W. R. Walker, M. M. Bullard, D. J. Corbett, Sr., R. P. Paddison, J. E. Henry, with the president as chairman, was appointed to make arrangements to hold a celebration some time this Fall and also to invite suitable speakers for the occasion.

Quite a number of new names were presented and elected as members of the association. The entire board of officers were re-elected for the next year.

After very patriotic speeches by Dr. G. F. Lucas, D. J. Corbett, Sr., A. C. Moore and others and a very strong speech and plea from J. T. Moore, the president, for each member to use his influence in aiding our representative to Congress to secure the needed appropriations, the meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the president.

SUNDAY MORNING, AUGUST 17.

A PERPLEXING PROBLEM.

The race problem in South Africa is now a subject of serious discussion in England, where they are beginning to realize that it a difficult one and one that will become with time more rather than less difficult of solution. We reproduced a few days ago an editorial from the New York Sun, based upon an article on that question in the London Fortnightly Review, in which some features of this problem were considered, and some resemblance shown between the conditions in that country and in the South. A striking feature was a quotation from the writer in the Review article, in which he said that it would not be wise to interfere with the legislation of the Boers, which inflicted the death penalty upon the black man who assaulted a white woman, from which it might be inferred that the lust devil takes possession of the negro in Africa as he does of the negro in this country, and when he does the possessed negro knows no restraint, and can be deterred only by the most severe and summary punishment.

The white people of the South have realized this and hence when outrages of this kind are committed vengeance follows swift and terrible when the culprit is caught. The slower the courts the swifter the vengeance by men who will not await leaden footed justice. They call this lynch law. In South Africa, within Boer jurisdiction, there was no lynch law because the courts realized the necessity of acting quickly, and there were no delays by appeal to stave of or avert the penalty.

There is one factor which is going to increase the difficulty of the solution of this problem which was not referred to in the article on which the Sun commented but attention to which is called by Hon. Leonard Courtney, a member of the British Parliament, in an article on "The Outlook in South Africa," published in the current number of the North American Review, where he says:

> The first important fact is the persistent survival—nay, the increase of the native, especially of the Zulu. This strong race, far from disappearing before the advancing white, multiplies by his side and even tends to fill up the land before him. Not naturally an eager or a plodding laborer, he is quite willing to work on conditions that satisfy his sense of gain, and he is, in fact, the agricultural and the mining laborer in the land.

This means trouble. They increase relatively more than the whites do, of whom they have the start by millions. With the stopping of tribal wars, which follows the establishment of European supremacy and government by the white man, they will continue to increase even more rapidly and that very fact will throw a damper on European immigration. Capital will be slow in establishing industrial enterprises, which would have to rely upon native labor, and the European laborer will not seek a home in a land where he would have to work with or compete with that kind of labor. The negro who works if not compelled to is the exception here in the South, and is even more of an exception in South Africa, where he works only to meet his daily needs which are few and easily supplied. This is one of the difficulties that the operators of mines and other enterprises in that country have had to contend against all along and shortly before his death Cecil Rhodes was endeavoring to secure the enactment of a law empowering the diamond mine and gold mine operators to compel negroes whom they needed to work, to impress them when necessary, and to inflict corporal and other punishment on those who broke their agreements with their employers. Their labor was so unreliable that no dependence could be placed upon it. They would hire to the companies, work until they received their wages, then skip and be seen no more until the money earned was spent. That was not the exception but the rule, and hence Cecil Rhodes, speaking for his own companies and for others, argued the necessity of stringent laws and special privileges to the mine operators to hold negro labor to its task and keep the laborers on the ground. This, too, is one of the obstacles encountered by the German companies which are trying the experiment of cotton growing in the German colonies. The native negro may be, as this writer says, "the agricultural and mining laborer" of the land, but if so he is a very poor dependence. He does not like labor, and to live it is not necessary to labor much. He has never learned to labor, nor the necessity of labor, in which respect he differs from the negro of the South, who was schooled and trained in slavery and to whom work was no new thing when he was by emancipation put upon his own muscular resources. It isn't the very best kind of labor with us for it has become to a greater or less extent demoralized as the control the white man becomes less. The negro in Africa must be trained to labor to be of much use, and that in itself will be a task of no small proportions. In the meantime the numbers of the blacks in the labor field will keep out the whites so that the dependence must be mainly upon black labor.

But whether the labor problem be successfully solved or not, the increasing numbers of the blacks magnifies the proportions of the race problem by which the white man is confronted. That's the "white man's burden," and he can't rid himself of it by shooting the black man down, as was the custom with the planters of civilization in the "Dark Continent."

CUBAN ANNEXATION.

The Republican organs and leaders are doing a good deal of talking these days about Cuban annexation. Some of them would like to hurry it up, to put Cuba in such a predicament that annexation would be the only hope of escape from ruin. In his speech before the convention which nominated him for Congress again, Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, declared that Congress made a mistake in adopting the Teller resolution. There are other grabbers who agree with him, for that resolution is the only thing that prevented them from playing the same grab game in Cuba that was played in the Philippines. But they feel pretty sure of catching Cuba anyway and that's why some of them are willing to wait and do not think it well to rush the thing, for appearance sake if nothing more.

As showing how they feel about it we quote the following from the Philadelphia Press, which doubtless voices their sentiments and probably the sentiments of the Roosevelt administration. It says:

> When General Grosvenor says he always wanted and still wants Cuba, he undoubtedly speaks for many Americans. There is considerable annexation sentiment both in this country and in the island.
> In Cuba the sentiment will grow as the economic necessity and interest become more plain. The commercial and business element will favor union and the political element will for a time antagonize it. With annexation the active and ambitious politicians would have less scope, and they will excite opposition which will overawe the real feeling. If there were a free and untrammeled expression the voice for absorption in the United States would be stronger than it is.
> There are probably few Americans who do not expect that Cuban annexation will be consummated at some future time. Sooner or later it is inevitable. Cuba will come to us by the law of political gravitation. But any present agitation on the subject is both futile and unwise. If it were a question of to-day we should answer against it. We are not only estopped by good faith from seeking annexation, but, even if we were free from that restraint, we do not want it at present.
> We pledged ourselves to the establishment of an independent Cuban Republic, and that pledge has been sacredly kept. But it would be keeping the promise to the ear and breaking it to the hope if we followed its nominal fulfillment by an immediate attempt to secure its practical overthrow. We have set up the Cuban nation as we agreed. We have discharged our duty on that point. The next step is hers. When she asks for annexation, as she will, we shall grant it. But she must ask.
> And we are in no hurry to have her knock at our door. We do not care to increase the heterogeneous elements we have to deal with just now. They are not all on the islands and off the continent. Some of them are within our ancient borders. The work of education is going on and these elements will present less difficulties in the near future than they present at this time. Besides, Cuba will rapidly become better prepared for annexation. With the development of her opportunities she is certain to become largely Americanized, and with the infusion of this American element the absorption of the rich and fertile island will not be objectionable.
> For a century American statesmanship has looked to Cuba as one of the most desirable and promising acquisitions this country could make. In a large sense she is less necessary to us now than at any former time. We have gained other outposts in the Caribbean Sea, and have put Cuba herself under bonds without annexation. But political and commercial union is bound to come, and, without making the mistake of hastening it, the political association will come quite as soon as is well for us.

Mr. Lazar Mehojevich, of New Orleans, has been going by the name of George Morris. He got the name Morris from a sea captain with whom he sailed as a salt, because the captain could not successfully wrestle with Mehojevich. Now Lazar is petitioning the legislature to permit him to resume his original name, without the slightest suspicion of the trouble he will bring to himself and other innocent people. Some men never know when they are in luck, and are always trying to get into trouble.

A big excursion of colored people from Philadelphia to Atlantic City has been postponed from the 18th to the 21st of this month, because Bro. Jones, the colored prophet, who predicted the Johnstown disaster, and other cataclysms, has predicted that Atlantic City will be wiped out by a tidal wave Monday, the 18th. They are not going to take any chances.

Among the announcements made for speakers by Chairman Simmons are one at Rockingham, Tuesday, September 2d, where Hon. Robert N. Page will speak; at Greenville, September 3d, where Hon. John H. Small and W. T. Dorth, Esq., will speak, and one at Burgaw, September 1st, where Hon. C. R. Thomas will speak.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY FOR THE BLOOD, LIVER, LUNGS.

LOOKING TO MORGAN.

A Wilkesbarre, Pa., dispatch announces that the striking miners are looking to J. P. Morgan as the Moses who is to lead them out of the wilderness, and that he will, on his return from Europe, which is shortly expected, compel the mine operators to make such concessions as will end the strike.

They evidently look upon J. Pierpont Morgan as a mighty man, as he doubtless is, who can do more by a word with these mine operators than delegations of miners, and of prominent and influential citizens could, to whose speeches and representations they turned a deaf ear. Public sentiment, as expressed and emphasized from time to time through the columns of the press, has had no effect upon them, the intervention of citizens who desired to bring the strike to an end had no influence upon them, the fact that business suffered and the people were being heavily burdened as a result of the strike had no influence upon them, and it remains to be seen whether J. Pierpont Morgan is mightier than all these.

If he ends the strike by bringing the mine operators down from their high perch he will render good service not only to the miners, but to the public. It will be a significant illustration, also, of the power of the man who organizes and runs trusts.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Says Mark Hanna: "It is hard to conciliate, it is hard to arbitrate a question when only one side will consider it." So it would be to try a law suit. But what is the matter with making both sides consider it?—Indianapolis Sentinel, Dem.

—— For twenty years William J. Lee was a good and prosperous citizen of Trenton, N. J., and was at the head of a thriving business. Then a trust came along and ruined his business and his mind gave away under the strain. The other day he was arrested because of threats made by him against State Treasurer Briggs and for throwing bricks through windows. That is an illustration of one effect of trusts.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— Nature itself, it appears, has gone into the oleo business on a large scale. "In the French Soudan have been discovered vast forests of the karite tree, from which the natives extract a substance closely resembling butter, having all its good qualities and lacking some bad qualities. Preparations are being made to export it." The dairy interest in this country will take notice. Let the American cow be protected at once from the foreign karite tree.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

—— When Roosevelt and Knox claim credit for securing an injunction against the trusts in 1904, the people will be glad to know why nobody went to jail as the Sherman bill provides. It is somewhat of an anomaly in an American court to prove the guilt and then let the guilty go free of the legal consequences. A beef baron behind the bars would have been a popular show during the campaign: a forceless injunction immediately followed by a rise in prices will not prove convincing evidence of the bona fides of the Executive or his party.—Jacksonville Times-Union, Dem.

TWINKLINGS

— "How was the scenery where you spent your vacation?" "The most expensive I ever gazed at."—Detroit Free Press.

— "How did you come out of that last speculation of yours, Blowly?" "None of your business" Sorry that you lost, old man."

— Some one once sent to Eugene Field a poem entitled, "Why Do I Live?" Mr. Field sent back the reply: "Because you sent your verse by mail."

Miss Singer—I wonder if that rich uncle of mine remembered me when he made his will? I used to sing to him. Mr. Law—I'm sure he must have.—He hasn't left you anything.

— Mr. Pepper—I don't believe there was a dry eye in the house when the curtain went down on the third act. Mrs. Pepper—No; but there seemed to be the usual number of dry throats.

— Optimist—There is no doubt that everything in this world is for the best. Pessimist—You're quite right. Everything is for the best—off, and there's precious little left for us poor devils.

— "Keep your temper, laddie, Never quarrel wi' an angry person, especially a woman. Mind ye, a soft answer's aye best. It's commanded—and forbye it makes them far madder than onything else you could say."—Tit-Bits.

— "It's useless to worry," remarked the long-haired passenger. "A man should be satisfied with what he has." "Oh, I'm satisfied with what I have," replied the red-nosed man across the aisle. "It's what I haven't that causes most of my dissatisfaction."—Chicago News.

CRASH IT

Goes the crockery and the waitress will probably be called clumsy and careless. Her plea of sudden dizziness is not allowed. "What right has she to be dizzy?" they ask. Women who are suffering from diseases peculiarly feminine are liable to sudden dizziness and faintness, and it is only by curing the womanly diseases to which they are subject that dizziness and other ills can be entirely relieved.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures irregularity, dries disagreeable, weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. When these conditions are cured, backache, headache, dizziness, etc., are also cured.

"I suffered for twelve years with female trouble," writes Mrs. Milton Grimes, of Adair, Adair Co., Iowa, "which brought on other diseases—heart trouble, Bright's disease, and at times would be nearly paralyzed. Had neuralgia of stomach. I can freely say your medicines (nine bottles in all, five of 'Favorite Prescription,' four of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets), have cured me. I can work with comfort now, but before I would be tired all the time and have a dizzy headache, and my nerves would be all unstrung so I could not sleep. Now I can sleep and do a big day's work, something I had not done for over eleven years before."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Sanford Express: It is said that the sweet potato crop will be good this year. Some very nice ones have already been brought to market. — The Elbeta peaches were sent from the Experiment Farm of the North Carolina State Horticultural Society at Southern Pines, to the State Museum at Raleigh the other day which measured 10½ inches around and weighed 10¼ ounces each.

— Washington Gazette: It might be interesting to our farmers to learn that of the one hundred and seventy-five acres in tobacco Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse insured in the Park Region Hail Insurance Company, sixty-acres were damaged by the recent storm and in less than three days after the adjuster had gone over the track of the hail, Mr. Laughinghouse received a check for $3,500 to cover his loss.

—Lexington Dispatch: Mr. Stokes Garner, who lives near Snider postoffice, killed a rattlesnake last week that had seventeen rattles and a button. The snake had been frequently seen, and its path across the road, near where it was killed, was often seen by travellers. Mr. Garner was driving along this road when it crossed just in front of him and prepared for a battle, but Mr. Garner was ready and shot it just as it made a strike for his mules.

— Bayboro Sentinel: Crops everywhere in the county are reported to be the finest for many years. — The survey of the Pamlico, Oriental and Western R. R., has begun and is at work The bridge has been located at Newberne and specifications are being prepared, work will begin on it as soon as the lumber can be sawed and it will be a wooden bridge with a steel draw! The bridge will cross Neuse river just about a mile above the county bridge. The surveying corps will reach Bayboro next week with the line surveyed from Newbern here. The survey will then continue to Oriental and then to Vandemere and Goose Creek island.

— Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer: Mr. Frank A. Clark died at his home in Ansonville township last Saturday night, after a long illness, aged about 72 years. — Lightning struck a stable which belonged to Mr. Geo. A. Martin, of Morven, Sunday afternoon and killed two mules. The building was only slightly damaged. — A few days ago smallpox was discovered on the R. A. Robinson place, near Little's Mill, and on the Haywood place, on Little river. There are said to be eleven cases in all. The contagion is confined to the colored race, and it is said to have been brought into the neighborhood by a negro from High Point. — The Deep Creek neighborhood was visited by a severe hail and wind storm Sunday afternoon. The crops of Messrs. Geo. C. Ratliff, Wm. Gulledge, Elisha Porter, Edwin Tarlton and perhaps others suffered severely. Corn was blown down by the wind and fodder was cut to pieces by hail. Cotton was not damaged as much as corn. — There is every indication that there will be enough corn made in Anson this year to supply the needs of the county. Indeed, we will not be surprised if there is a surplus. There is a very large acreage and the crop, on the whole, is much above the average. — In most sections cotton is looking well. On the stiff lands the weed is unusually small, though well fruited. There is much complaint of black rust and there is no probability that a "bumper" crop will be gathered. In our opinion the crop will be only a good average.

Barley and Peas For Fall Forage.

Barley and peas furnish a satisfactory green crop during the first three weeks of October. They are not injured by frosts. In Massachusetts one and a half bushels each to the acre are sown together the first of August and deeply harrowed in with a wheel harrow. The yield will not be as large as in the case of the oats and peas, six tons to the acre being about an average crop. The land from which the oats and peas were taken earlier in the season can be utilized, thus producing two crops in one year, equivalent to four tons of hay to the acre. Should the month of August prove unusually dry this crop might prove a failure.

In the Garden.

A light application of bonemeal will do good to the melons.

Paris green kills the beetles, and bordeaux prevents blight on potatoes.

Wood soot will discourage the flea beetles.

It isn't well to cut asparagus very late in the season.

Apply tobacco dust heavily to keep down bugs on melons.

Wax beans may be sown for succession.

Plant sweet corn for a late crop.

Keep up the war on weeds.

Set the late cabbage crop.

Transplant late celery.

Sow beets for fall.

YESTERDAY.

W. D. NESBIT.

It is not far to Yesterday
And there we turn our eyes
To where the good, glad memories
In pleasing pictures rise,
The faded roses of to day
Grow red and rich with dew,
And where gray clouds are spreading now
We see the skies of blue.

Just down the way is Yesterday—
There sunshine always beams;
To day we close our eyes and see
Our Yesterday in dreams,
To day we hear the long-dead song,
And now we understand
Its cadence, and know why it made
Our Yesterday all grand.

A little way to Yesterday—
To-day may have its fears;
Yet yesterday it filled with smiles.
To-morrow has its tears—
To-day—to-morrow—What of them,
When we can find the way
That leads us to the golden land—
The land of Yesterday!

It is not far to Yesterday,
With glamour of the rose;
With haunting echo of the song
That thrilled us to the close.
To-morrow and To day will lose
Their darkness and their gloom,
And each will soon be Yesterday,
With melody and bloom.

Whitewash.

Whitewash is the cheapest disinfectant we know of. A coat of whitewash in a poultry house sweetens it up wonderfully. It is not necessary to try to do an artistic job. Any brush or even an old broom may be used to apply the wash. A spray pump can be bought cheaply and will save time in whitewashing. Whatever is used, don't forget to whitewash.

Do It Right.

Selling poultry is just like selling anything else—it pays to classify all products and put the best in one lot, the second best in another and the culls in still another, if offered at all. —Commercial Poultry.

Remedy For Diarrhea.

For diarrhea change the food, supply grit and dust a little powdered chalk and cayenne pepper into boiled milk and feed it with soft food, withholding vegetables and green stuff for a few days. Never feed sour dough.

The Cock Policeman.

As soon as the chickens get old enough to give trouble by fighting among themselves it is a good plan to put an old male in the pen with them. He will break up the quarrels before any harm is done.

Littleton Female College is being completely renovated including inside painting, rewhitening walls, &c., preparatory to the largest opening in its history. This institution has made a notable record among North Carolina schools and its patronage is rapidly extending to its sections beyond the borders of the State. Concerning the institution Dr. A. D. Betts says: "I have seen something of schools for a long time. I have looked into some that I call ideal schools. I have never seen a better place for girls than Littleton Female College." †

THE IRON COWPEA.

Resists Wilt, Knot and Drought and Remains Green Up to Frost.

The Iron cowpea, which has solved the problem of the cowpea wilt disease in the south, is a compact, vigorous plant of medium size somewhat trailing in habit, but less so than the Unknown. The foliage is dark green, with a peculiar bluish luster that distinguishes this variety from others. It is of the Clay type. The seeds are small and hard. The color is buff and somewhat variable, seeds of different shades being found in the same pod.

The plant begins to bloom in about two months from planting and continues up to frost. The crop is therefore ripened through rather a long season, which is something of a disadvantage, though it is partially compensated by the fact that the pods do not shell out in the field as freely as other sorts, and picking can therefore be deferred till late. It holds its leaves under adverse conditions of drought and disease better than any other kind tested and is especially noteworthy for the way it remains green up to frost, very much later than other varieties. When cut for hay, it sprouts freely from the stubble and makes more second growth than is usual.

The Iron cowpea, because of its resistance to wilt and root knot and hardiness in other respects, is certainly one of the most valuable varieties of cowpeas known for cultivation on all soils that are infested with one or the other of these diseases.—R. A. Orton.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The cotton market opened barely steady, with prices two points higher to one point lower. The room contingent appeared to be very mixed in its ideas as to the immediate course of the market, owing to the exceptionally conflicting character of influences at work, and devoted operations almost exclusively to working out former ventures. The English cables were considerably better than was expected, futures closing net unchanged to one-half point higher, whereas a decline of one and one-half points had been quite generally anticipated by the trade here. Crop advices from the eastern belt report more rains. Europe and the South sent small selling orders and commission houses as a rule advised constituents to take profits, believing some further decline was at hand. Whereas August managed to stiffen to 8.45 on the call, later sales were effected at a sharp decline from that figure. Receipts contin

BLASTING OUT STUMPS.

The Use of Dynamite and Its Cost. How to Place the Cartridge.

In the removal of large stumps dynamite is serviceable and economical. While it will seldom blow the stump out of the ground, it will usually split it in several parts and lay bare the roots, thus enabling the grubber to take out the stump piece by piece.

The cost of this explosive will not justify its use on stumps under six or eight inches in diameter. It is too expensive for general use in clearing land. The cost will approximately vary from 10 to 20 cents per stump.

Dynamite consists of nitroglycerin mixed with a granular absorbent, and wherever there is nitroglycerin there is danger. The lower grades of dynamite, those containing about 30 per cent of nitroglycerin, are preferable for stump blasting because they explode with less suddenness, and their tendency is more to upheave than to shatter. Dynamite is very dangerous if carelessly handled; also if placed by inexperienced hands much of it is likely to be misapplied. Hence it will be safer and cheaper to employ experienced help in its use.

Dynamite comes in cylindrical sticks of different sizes and lengths. The quantity to use in blowing out a stump depends necessarily upon the size of the stump. The charge, with cap and fuse attached, should be placed in a hole bored for the purpose as nearly as possible under the stump. The hole should then be filled with earth and gently tamped. Then the fuse may be lighted and the operator retreat beyond the range of flying fragments.

It is generally conceded by those familiar with dynamite that the most effectual destruction of the stump is achieved by boring into it as low down as possible, thus adding considerably to the force of the explosion (see the cut). This method, however, adds to the time and labor and hence to the cost per stump, while the more common method of digging down by the side of the stump and hollowing out a place under it where the charge is placed will generally split up the stump sufficiently to make its removal an easy matter.—F. Williams, Jr., Virginia.

SMALL SEPARATORS.

These Are Growing Very Popular. The Fresh Skimmilk.

There are great objections to having to care for on the farm and haul to the factory a large bulk of milk when only the cream is needed, and any system which does away with the seemingly useless labor of handling eight or ten pounds for the delivery of one will be most welcome. Besides the advantage of having to haul only a small amount instead of a large amount it is an advantage to have cream removed on the farm, so that skimmilk may be fed when fresh. The gathered cream system with deep set milk gives these results only partially.

Small separators on the farms of patrons are becoming numerous and are regarded as very advantageous by many. The skimmilk is thus made immediately available for feeding, and the cream alone needs to be cooled, cared for and hauled. This system appears to be excellent in certain cases. It is a natural development of the cream gathering plan and if ultimately successful will be widely adopted. It does away with the return to the farm of the spoiled contents of a filthy skimmilk tank, as well as the sometimes heated discussions as to how much skimmilk belongs to the different patrons. But the most important advantage is the use on each farm of its own skimmilk while fresh and sweet. Besides this it protects the young stock from taking a disease which may be on a distant farm, whence the germs may be delivered to the creamery and carried away in the skimmilk to other farms.

If the milk is to be set for cream, it should be aerated and set when warm. This should be done as soon as the milk is strained. If a machine is used, aeration takes place while it is passing through the separator. Unless it is desired to ripen the cream immediately it must be promptly cooled.—R. A. Pearson.

Ducks by the Acre.

The illustration shows a scene on the duck farm of W. R. Curtis & Co., Ran-somville, N. Y. The nursery, including runs and cold brooder house, is shown at a time when the young ducks are being fed out of doors.

Congested Crop.

In some cases of crop bound a manipulation of the crop may break up this mass, and it may be gradually worked downward to the gizzard, but the quicker and easier way is to cut the skin through to the crop, then slip it a little to one side and cut through the crop and work the material out with the finger. When this is done and the skin slips back to its proper position, the two cuts will not correspond. Then place the hen by herself in a comfortable coop, give her plenty of warm water to drink and a mash of soft food in small amounts, and it will be but a few days before the cuts will have healed, the little blood that starts and the feathers forming a healing plaster better for her than the surgeon could prepare.—American Cultivator.

The fact that little Delaware is the oldest state of the Union gives her governor social precedence over all other state executives who may share with him any official entertainment in Washington.—Ladies' Home Journal.

IN THE PEACH ORCHARD.

Cowpeas and Crimson Clover as Catch or Cover Crops.

Cowpeas are used in Maryland for cover cropping with more general satisfaction than any other plant. Crimson clover has proved satisfactory with some, and where a good stand can be relied upon it is one of the best catch crops for orchard purposes.

The repeated working of the soil, as by tillage, depletes the supply of humus, and it is for this reason that tillage and cover crops have a somewhat intimate relationship. Soils well filled with decaying vegetable matter retain moisture much better than soils do that are deficient in this respect.

At the last cultivation, say the middle of July, the cover crop ought to be sown. The trees have completed most of their growth by this time and do not require as much plant food as earlier in the season, so that taken by the growing catch crops will seldom be required by the trees if they have had an abundant supply earlier in the season.

Under favorable conditions the plants used as catch crops will make considerable growth by the time cold weather sets in. The cover should be allowed to remain on the surface of the ground during the winter to protect the land, to hold the snow from blowing off and prevent the rains from washing. Even a cover like cowpeas, which are killed by the frost, should not be plowed under till spring. Then with the opening of spring the orchard may be given a shallow plowing and tilled thereafter frequently enough to keep the soil mulch in good condition until midseason comes again.

"Will wonders ever cease?" inquire the friends of Mrs. L. Pease, of Lawrence, Kan. They knew she had been unable to leave her bed in seven years on account of kidney and liver trouble, nervous prostration and general debility; but, "Three bottles of Electrict Bitters enabled me to walk," she writes, "and in three months I felt like a new person." How About That Tackle?

The blue birds are with us again. The streams and ponds are warming up. The fishermen should be looking up their outfits. Seeing if anything is wanted before the last minute.

As of old we are showing the finest things to tempt the fish kingdom and make the sport more sporty for the anglers.

Lines may be wanted; poles must be needed; hooks are very necessary, and in fact we have everything that is required to make a complete outfit.

To those that are interested in the sport, to those others that may not be so enthusiastic, we would consider it a favor to have all come in and look.

SUNDAY MORNING, AUGUST 17.

EXPRESS COMPANY ROBBED.

The American Express at Fordsville, Ky., Loses $28,000 Under Peculiar Circumstances—Conspiracy Alleged.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Aug. 16.—A special to the Times, from Owensboro, Ky. says:

The agent of the American Express Company at Fordsville was robbed of $28,000 last night under peculiar circumstances. J. W. Boatner, who shipped the money to Fordsville, is under arrest at Irvington and J. C. Schlitzbaum, the agent of the company, is being held at Falls of Rough. Several days ago a man giving his name as J. V. Boatner, of Memphis, Tenn., appeared at the office of the American Express Company, at Deanefield five miles from Fordsville, and wanted to express $30,000 to the latter point. Boatner took a receipt for it and then the agent remembered that he was allowed to ship only $5,000 at one time and made him take the cash back. Boatner kept the money until last night when it was sent to Fordsville by express where it arrived late last night. The express agent, it is said, informed a number of people that the money had arrived. It was put in a bank, as Mr. Boatner sent word he would be there early this morning. This morning Schlitzbaum turned up at Falls of Rough, ten miles away. He stated he was held up, robbed and kidnapped during the night. He first decided to stay at the depot all night, he says, but finally got nervous and started to the hotel, which was only one square away. Between the two places he was set upon and robbed of the money by three men. The express people and the officers believe that the whole affair was a conspiracy to defraud the American Express Company of $28,000. Boatner is now under arrest at Irvington, Ky.

MISAPPLIED FUNDS.

Vice President of a Savings Bank in Detroit, Mich., Convicted.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DETROIT, MICH., August 16.—Frank C. Andrews, late vice president of the wrecked City Savings Bank, was this evening found guilty of misapplying the funds of that institution after a trial that lasted four weeks, by a jury in Recorder Murphy's court. Attorney Kirchner at once notified the court that an appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court and a stay of proceedings for sixty days was granted.

But two ballots were taken. The first one stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal. The verdict was reached at 1:15, but the jury did not come in until 2 o'clock. When the verdict was pronounced Andrews' face whitened. "It's an error," he said, "and it is unjust. I never intended to cheat or defraud any one. God knows it."

After the stay of proceedings had been granted Judge Murphy committed Andrews to the custody of the sheriff and he was taken across the street to the county jail and locked in a cell. Attorney Beaumont announced that on Monday he would ask the judge to fix bail for his client pending an appeal of the case.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

Supposed Attempt Upon the Life of Ex-Gov. Pattison, of Pennsylvania.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Aug. 16.—What may have been an attempt upon the life of former Governor Robert E. Pattison developed last night when the detective department was notified that Mr. Pattison had received through the mail a package containing what seemed to be an infernal machine. The package contained several pounds of black prismatic powder, such as is used in guns of large calibre, in the centre of which a small brass box was buried. On the top of the powder was a slip of paper bearing the inscription: "To h—l with you." The police are trying to discover a clue to the senders of the package.

A Swindler Operating in Germany With Confederate Notes of 1864 Issue.

BERLIN, August 16.—The German police are just becoming acquainted with the criminal possibilities of Confederate notes.

A person calling himself Charles von Hess has been swindling extensively, in one hundred, fifty and twenty dollar Confederate bills of 1864 issue. He has operated by advertising in agricultural papers for a manager for a large estate in Illinois, commenced negotiations with those who applied for the position, and found opportunities for getting Confederate bills converted into German money. He is still at liberty.

A SPECTACULAR NAVAL EVENT.

King Edward Completes the Programme of the Coronation Festivities.

REVIEWS THE BRITISH FLEET.

Magnificent Show—Over a Hundred War Vessels in Roadstead Off Spithead. Influx of Visitors—Waters Covered With Pleasure Craft.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 16.—King Edward completed the programme of the coronation festivities to-day by reviewing the fleet for the first time since his accession. From a spectacular point of view the assemblage of a hundred and odd war vessels in the roadstead off Spithead was a magnificent show, but to those looking beneath the brilliant veneer of paint and polish, it was evident that the fighting strength of the fleet was by no means formidable. The lines of ships were thickly dotted with ineffectives. Among these may be mentioned the third class cruiser Calliope, of Apia fame, while others included such relics as the battleships Devastation, Dreadnaught, Camperdown and Edinburgh, which are classed by some experts as absolutely dangerous to their crews, while some of the nominally effective fighters are still armed with muzzle-loaders. It must be pointed out, however, that the display represented merely the home fleet, not a single vessel having been withdrawn from a foreign station to participate in the pageant.

The day opened fine. There was an immense influx of visitors. The waters of the Solent were covered with pleasure craft of every variety, from the tiny canoe to the big excursion steamer, and every vantage point on shore was covered with spectators. At 8 A. M., in response to a signal, the fleet broke out flags and in the space of a minute the lines of black hulls were transformed into particolored lanes of fluttering bunting. Simultaneously the pennant of Admiral Sir Charles Hotham, the commander-in-chief at Portsmouth, was flung out from the peak of the Royal Sovereign, which to-day acted as flagship. Five other admirals' flags were also in view in different sections of the parade. The five lines in which the fleet was moored were located midway between the Isle of Wight and the mainland.

Nearest to the Portsmouth shore were the special service vessels and yachts and a few distinguished visiting vessels, headed by the conspicuous white hull of the torpedo boat destroyer Asaschio. The next line was made up of thirty-two British torpedo boat destroyers. Then there was a line of cruisers and gunboats, then a double line of battleships, and finally another line of cruisers. Another parallel line, nearest to the Isle of Wight, was made up of foreign men-of war, including two Japanese cruisers, the Asama and Takasago, the Italian armored cruiser Carlo Alberto, and the Portuguese cruiser Don Carlos I. The precaution had been taken to compel all the vessels present to burn smokeless coal; but as the day advanced a haze spread over the water and scurrying small craft frequently disappeared in banks of mist.

At 12:30 P. M. the lines of the fleet closed, the guard boats drove all unauthorized craft out of the forbidden area, and promptly at 2 o'clock the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward, Queen Alexandra and other royal personages on board, slowly got under way. This movement was signalled by a gunshot from the Royal Sovereign, and thousands of jackies swarmed over the decks, superstructures and fighting tops and manned ships in honor of their approaching majesties. Then came the firing of the royal salute of twenty-one guns, Amid the crash of naval ordinance the King's yacht moved slowly eastward, accompanied by the royal yachts Osborne and Alberta and three others, and escorted by a flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers. The King, who wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet, was surrounded by a brilliant staff. As his majesty passed each ship the officers and men cheered, and when the Victoria and Albert, after traversing the lines, took up fresh moorings abreast of the Royal Sovereign, the whole fleet joined in a final roar of cheers for the King, who then personally signalled an invitation to all the flag officers, including those of the foreign ships, to join him on the royal yacht.

The fleet will be illuminated from 9:30 P. M. to midnight, when the final royal salute will be fired.

The King will again inspect the fleet Monday, when all the ships will steam past the royal yacht,

A Dismal Failure.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 16.—Thousands of persons who were expectantly awaiting the illumination of the fleet off Spithead to-night not only were disappointed, but were drenched and bedraggled by a thunder storm and rainfall of almost phenomenal suddenness and violence.

The storm broke just as the signal for the illumination was given and the crowds ashore and afloat stampeded for shelter. There was no lingering to await the possibility of the lifting of the shroud of mist, the darkness of which enveloped the ships and shores, preventing a sight of the spectacle, and the carnival shortly afterwards was abandoned.

TENNESSEE COAL MINES.

Operators and Workers Reach an Agreement on the Wage Schedule.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Aug. 16.—The wage scale committee of the district mine workers and the Coal Creek and Jellico operators reached an agreement to-day. An advance of one and a half cents per ton on screened coal and one cent per ton on run of mine was granted by the operators. Nine hours remain a day's labor, monthly pay day is unchanged and day laborers get an advance of between one-third and one-half cents an hour.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 16.—With the signing of the scale by the Merchants Coal Company, of Tunnelton, it is thought that the miners' strike in this district has come to an end. The miners gained all they asked for.

THE BOER GENERALS ARRIVE IN ENGLAND.

Met With an Enthusiastic Reception in Southampton and London—Are on Their Way to Holland

By Cable to the Morning Star.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 16.—Generals Botha and Deharey arrived here this morning and met with a great reception, both from the government officials and the public. The Boer generals looked remarkably well and evidently were much pleased at the heartiness of the welcome accorded them. Soon after landing they boarded the steamship Nigeria, where Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, Earl Roberts and General Lord Kitchener greeted them. They were also introduced to Mrs. Chamberlain and Lady Roberts, with whom they chatted for some time.

Official arrangements had been made to permit the generals to witness the naval review, but after a conference with Abraham Fischer, the former Boer delegate, who came from The Hague, it was announced that they intended to proceed direct to London in order to reach Holland as speedily as possible. The generals go to Holland to pay their last respects to the memory of General Lucas Meyer, who died of heart disease on August 8th.

General Botha in conversation here confirmed the statement that he and his companions will visit the United States before returning to South Africa.

Demonstration in London.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The Boer generals reached London in the course of the afternoon and were loudly cheered in the streets. Asked why they had declined the government's invitation to witness the naval review, the visitors remarked that they were "too tired after the long war and needed a rest."

It is still uncertain whether or not they will return to Cowes and see the King. The scene at the railroad station on the arrival of the Boers was remarkable. An enormous crowd of people gave them a welcome as hearty as given to Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener when they arrived here from South Africa. Shouts of "Good Old DeWet," "Our Friends the Enemy," and "Brave Soldiers All," were frequently heard amidst salvos of cheers.

General DeWet was fairly cornered by a mob and had to be rescued by the police, who by sheer force cleared a line of retreat for him.

THE CHICAGO MURDERS.

Oscar Thompson Held for the Grand Jury on the Charge of Murdering Mrs. Bartholin—Claffy as Accessory.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Oscar Thompson was held to the grand jury to-day by Judge G. W. Patton on the charge of having murdered Mrs. Anna M Bartholin. At the same time, John Claffy, the old stableman, who is better known as "Daddy," was held as an accessory after the fact to the murder of Miss Minnie Mitchell. Thompson also was held on this charge.

Claffy's bond was fixed at $3,000, but the court declined to fix a bond for Thompson, as the murder charge on which he waived examination does not permit of accepting surety for the accused. The two men were taken to the county jail. No attempt was made to give bond for Claffy, as the primary object of the attorney acting for him and Thompson was to get the prisoners out of the hands of Inspector Hunt and free from his "sweat box" methods.

Shortly before noon Attorney Michael W. Meagher appeared before Judge Patton with a petition signed by Julius Aagood, Thompson's employer, for a writ of habeas corpus. Notice of application was served on Inspector Hunt, immediately, with orders to bring the prisoners into court at 2 o'clock. At that hour the inspector, accompanied by Chief O'Neill and Lieutenants Wood and Bacus, appeared with the prisoners. Assistant City Prosecutor Hugh Murray represented the police and informed the court that Inspector Hunt was prepared to "book" the prisoners and make formal charges against them. On this understanding Mr. Meagher agreed to withdraw his application for the prisoners' release and said they could waive examination on the charges filed against them.

U. S. FIELD ARTILLERY.

To be Equipped With a New Piece Recently Invented in Germany.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BERLIN, August 16.—The United States War Department has bought of Herr Ehrhardt, a gun-maker of Dusseldorf, the right to re-arm the American field artillery with Herr Ehrhardt's new piece. Captain Henry Boreup, of the United States ordnance department, is now at Dusseldorf on this business, probably to learn thoroughly how the gun is constructed.

The gun which the United States has acquired the right to use is understood to be an improvement on the model supplied to Great Britain, being lighter and of longer range. The United States ordnance officers have long complained that their field gun was less effective than the French and German guns.

Captain Boreup is remembered among foreign officers as formerly attached to the Paris embassy of the United States and as having been recalled on an intimation of the French government that such a step would be desirable, this being due to his unusual success in penetrating military secrets.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Supreme Lodge Considered Case of Jno. A. Hinsey, Accused of Misusing Funds

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The convention of the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias will continue in session for several days, but the picturesque features of the national gathering have passed into history. The Rathbone sisters have finally adjourned and to-night the tents of the uniform rank were struck.

The entire session of the Supreme Lodge to-day was devoted to the case of John A. Hinsey, former president of the board of control of the Endowment Rank who has been accused of misusing half a million dollars. Hinsey was suspended from the Grand Lodge until his case shall have been finally disposed of by the grand tribunal of Illinois. The vote to suspend Hinsey was 117 ayes and 12 nays.

The session then adjourned until Monday morning.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Central of Georgia Railway at Savannah, an annual dividend of 3 per cent. was declared on the first preferred income bonds.

STRIKERS STILL RAIDING FARMS.

All Men in the Valley Sworn in as Deputies to Protect Their Property.

AT THE WARNKE WASHERY.

Owners Say They Will Start Work Tuesday and Will Appeal to the Governor for Troops if the Sheriff Does Not Give Them Protection.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 16.—President Mitchell left for Indianapolis late this afternoon. Before going he said he had received reports from every section of the strike region and these showed that the strikers were standing firm and were more confident of victory than ever. Mr. Mitchell said he shared in this belief with his followers.

No attempt was made to resume work at the Warnke washery to-day, and as a result everything was quiet in Duryea. The owners of the washery say they will start up the works next Tuesday, and if the sheriff does not give them protection they will make an appeal to the Governor for State troops. Sheriff Jacobs says he will do all in his power to preserve order, but if affairs get beyond his control he will have to call on the State authorities for aid. The United Mine Workers are said to be putting forth their best efforts to have the strikers at Duryea remain away from the washery, but the foreign element is stubborn and not inclined to be governed by what the English speaking leaders say.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Aug. 16.—The raiding of farms in the Catawissa valley by strikers continues. The sheriff has been appealed to by farmers and as a result Gen. Gobin sent the Governor's Troop on a march through that region.

General Gobin, after an investigation of the conditions in the Catawissa valley, decided that military protection for the farmers is impracticable, and at his suggestion Sheriff Beddall has sworn in all the men of the valley as deputies, so that they will be in a position to protect their farms from the foreigners.

A BLOODLESS BATTLE.

Deputy Sheriff Fights at Long Range With Escaped Convicts.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FLORENCE, ALA., August 16.—Deputy Sheriff T. S. White, of Waynesboro, Tenn., had a battle with five men, supposed to be the Tennessee penitentiary escaped convicts, at the head of Cypress Creek, about twenty miles north of Florence, late yesterday. The men were armed with 44 Colts pistols and dressed in blue jumpers. White saw the men pass near Waynesboro, coming south, and followed them on horseback. Coming suddenly upon the men sitting on a lumber pile at a cabin, he opened fire with his pistol at close range. All five men returned the fire and White jumped off his horse, using it as a protection. Two men, whom White recognized as Gus Hyatt and John Doe stood their ground until their pistols were empty and then ran down the road and joined the other three men, whom White says he recognized as Fred Seguin, Robert Bridge and James Simpson from photos sent out by the prison authorities.

White left this morning with Sheriff Hill and will make another effort to capture the criminals.

The creditors are estimated to number nearly 10,000, more than 8,000 being farmers. The American Trust and Savings Bank was appointed receiver, and its bond fixed at $500,000.

The assets of the company are claimed to be $800,000, while the liabilities are estimated at $350,000. Inability to realize on outstanding accounts is given as the cause of the failure.

The Elgin Creamery Company is the largest concern of its kind in the United States, and was organized by the consolidation of scores of independent plants throughout the country. Its authorized stock is $400,000.

GEO. O. GAYLORD

Has bought for cash the entire stock of fine Shoes from Mr. I. L. Greenewald on Market Street, and he now has these Shoes on sale in separate sections from his other Shoes in his large Store on Front Street.

It is needless for us to say much about this stock of shoes as Mr. Greenwald has been well known here for the past twenty years and the fact is well established that he carried the very best shoe that could be made of leather. I will say in relation to this stock that they are all new, fresh, clean goods and new and up-to-date styles. These shoes are all marked with Mr. Greenwald's selling price in plain figures and we will now offer them at just half price. He had a large quantity of children's fine shoes in sizes 1 to 5 and 5 to 8, that are as soft and fine as gloves, in both button and lace, tan and black.

A few pair of white kid slippers, shoe he sold for 50c, we will sell for 25c. His 75c shoe we will sell for 38c; $1 shoe for 50c and so on through the whole stock.

Now to the ladies who have small and narrow feet, we have something of unusual value to offer them, the lasts runs a, b, c and d, and the sizes 1½ to 5. They are all the best shoe, worth $2 to $5 a pair—remember we are selling Greenewald's fine $4.00 shoes now at $2.00. His $3 shoes for $1.50 and his $1.50 shoes for $1; his $1.50 shoes for 75c, and his $1 shoe for 50c.

It is a well known fact that I bought these to sell and not to keep, and as I bought them cheap I will sell them cheap.

Boys and Youths Shoes we have quite a nice assortment, from No. 9 in little gents' shoes to 5 1-2 in youths' sizes; we have them in box calf, kangaroo calf, soft kid and patent leather; we have 30 pair of men's fine calf skin shoes that Mr. Greenwald sold for $4 and $5 that we will sell for $1.25, in sizes 4 1-2 to 7. Men that have small feet can get a fit in these at one-fourth price. In addition to this stock we have about 7,000 pairs of shoes in our regular stock that we bought from the best factories in the country.

In Ladies' Shoes be sure to ask to see the Vicinos. We claim them to be equal to any $3 shoe sold in the city. This shoe is warranted by the factory to look, fit and wear well or a new pair given in their place. Our price, $1.50, any size or shape, button or lace.

While we carry almost everything you can call for in the Dry Goods line, and our stock in each department is equal to any store in the city, one of our strong features is shoes, and we want your shoe trade,—we ask that you spend your money where you get best values—a trial is all we ask.

In Rockingham Homespun for the truckers and farmers, we have 9,000 yards on hand, 2,600 yards in Rockingham Homespun in 1 to 10 yard pieces, that we are selling for 5 cents a yard. Plenty of Pee Dee Plaids.

Just received a big supply of Men and Boys Clothing. A full line of men's Overalls. Men and Women's Goodyear Rubber Shoes, at half prices. Men $1 Shoes for 50 cents, and Ladies 75 cents shoes for 38 cents.

Money talks. We pay cash and sell for cash and give you the best money can buy.

THE BIG RACKET STORE,

Sweeping Reductions!

In order to make room for the Goods I purchased at the Furniture Exposition I will close out my High Grade Furniture at prices that will astonish and interest you. The public is well aware that I never advertise any but facts, and that no FAKE SALE of any kind or character has ever been conducted by me. My custom ever since I have been in business is to mark the lowest spot cash price on every article in my store in plain figures. For this sale the cut price is marked in the same way immediately under the regular price, so that there can be no deception. This is an opportunity I offer you but once a year. Call—see—examine—compare and the result will satisfy me.
